
- Your task today is to continue working on your app design.
- Now that you have designed a home screen, you need to show what each option on your home screen will lead to.
- So design additional screens showcasing how your app works.
- Each additional power-point slide after slide 3 is showing how your app works. It is showing what happens when the user taps on an option on the home screen. There is no minimum or maximum number of slides from here onwards, but your power-point must show us the user’s experience in using and exploring each part of your app.
- Your participation grade at the end of the day will be based on your progress on these slides.
